Report from the Academic Matters Committee
Report from the International Programs Committee

FREN 1801 / VMCS 1801
Paris, City of Light

This course introduces elements that define the essence of Paris through a series of literary and cultural snapshots. Using multimedia presentations of the Parisian cultural landscape and a broadly interdisciplinary perspective, lectures explore the development of a vibrant and unique urban centre that has always been a magnet for creative minds and cultural fervour. It uses drawings, engravings, paintings, maps, texts, songs, and film to investigate what is perceived as the singularity, timelessness, and seductive appeal of Paris. (Format: Lecture 3 Hours) [Note 1: Language of instruction is English.] [Note 2: This course is cross-listed as FREN 1811 and may therefore count as three credits in either discipline.] (Format: Lecture 3 Hours)

Rationale: Designed and taught by Christina Ionescu, who is now cross-appointed to the Visual and Material Cultures Programme, FREN 1801 is a cultural studies course. Its primary focus has always been visual culture, as the calendar description suggests, though journalistic writing plays an important role in providing context for the visual documents studied in the course. In practice, there will be no changes to course content, and the course has always been taught in English. The cross-listing of the course, however, will enable VMCS students to see how visual culture as an approach is being applied to a living document and global city Paris. FREN 1801 / VMCS 1801 will thus complement perfectly VMCS 1201 (Introduction to Visual Culture) and due to its high visual content, the course will play an important role in the proposed Minor in Visual Communication and Culture.

Other calendar entries affected: Update cross-listing for FREN 1811 in Section 12.

FREN 3811 / VMCS 3811

Word and Image / Texte et image Images and Texts / Images et textes
Prereq: second-year standing; or permission of the Department
This course explores the intersection of verbal texts and visual arts in Francophone literature and culture from the Middle Ages to the twenty-first century. It adopts an interdisciplinary approach to examine how, different yet inseparable, words and images have always interacted with each other in a variety of ways and forms such as verbal portraiture, literary references to pictorial works, engravings and photographs used as illustrations or book covers, and the use of words in paintings. [Note 1: Language of instruction is English.] [Note 2: This course is cross-listed as FREN 3811 and may therefore count as three credits in either discipline.] (Format: Lecture 3 Hours)

Rationale: Designed and taught by Christina Ionescu, who is now cross-appointed to the Visual and Material Cultures Programme, FREN 3811 is a course with high visual content. As part of the curriculum renewal following the external review of the department, the French section approved a change in pre-requisite and language of instruction for this course to make it more accessible to students from disciplines other than French Studies. Due to its subject and the serve equally well the Visual and Material Cultures Programme without any changes in its content or delivery method.

Other calendar entries affected: Update Cross-Listing for FREN 3811 in Section 12.

The Academic Matters Committee recommends approval of the following changes to academic regulations effective under the 2020-

1) DATA 3001 -
UNDER: Theoretical, Methodological, Disciplinary Approaches
2) DATA 3101 - Data Acquisition and Organization
UNDER: Experiential, Applied Approaches

Rationale:

Furthermore, the coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to present many challenges. We are aware that some applicants are experiencing difficulty registering for English language proficiency tests like IELTS or TOEFL. The Duolingo English Test will enable us to continue verifying ESL proficiency, which does not require visiting a test centre.

The score of 110 is equivalent to IELTS 6.5 which is the current admission requirement for all require 110 for direct entry.
